

THANKSGIVING & HALLOWEEN

Farmer John's Big halloween Party

Doug Goheen (7 M, 10 F, 1 flexible) OR (7 M, 10 F, dog) 45-60 mins, 49 pgs

COMEDY. Farmer John has been sad and lonely ever since his beloved dog, Daisy, ran off a week ago. To cheer him up, Farmer John's neighbors and some barnyard animals plan a Halloween party complete with Halloween treats and decorations. Hilarious Halloween hoopla ensues when Farmer John's neighbors arrive dressed like barnyard animals, and the barnyard animals show up dressed like Farmer John's neighbors! Together, the barnyard animals and humans play fun Halloween games like guessing the number of candy corn in a jar, "Pin the Stem on the Pumpkin," and "Pass the Pumpkin." And what Halloween party would be complete without a best costume contest? Suitable for actors and audiences of all ages. Easy to stage with just one set. Script $7.95 Prompt Book $16 Royalty $60/performance

HALLOWEEN 2050 A.D.

Joel Ensana 1 M, 4 F, 1 flexible (Doubling: 1 M, 3 F) 25 pgs, 30 mins.

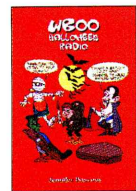

HORROR. In this post-apocalyptic world, all the birds have died, foul-smelling foam bubbles up from water, and more and more people have to conceal their faces with masks, especially the children, as their horrific faces have the "look of the future." It's Halloween and a mother and her two children arrive on the doorstep of an old woman's home. Until now, the old woman has survived by hiding inside her home with the curtains drawn and never touching anything or anyone outside her home. But with it being Halloween, the old woman opens her door to the trick-or-treaters and offers them a few pieces of stale candy and a couple of pennies she has saved in a jar. Once inside, the mother and her children discover the old woman's comfortable, spacious home and can't believe their eyes. In this new world, the government has seized private property, and families are forced to share cramped quarters with strangers in public housing. Spying an opportunity to improve their lives, the family threatens the old woman: either let them live there or they will take off their masks and report her to the government. A suspenseful, spellbinding play!

WBOO Halloween Radio

Jennifer Bascom 12 M, 12 F, 14 flex (Doubling: 9 M, 6 F, 10 flex) 59 pgs, 60-75 mins.

INTERACTIVE. This WBOO Halloween 1950's radio variety show is a real scream! There's comedy, music, "romance," and Halloween hi-jinks galore. Guests include a vampire standup comedian and a ventriloquist whose dummy hates Halloween. In "Listen to Your Mummy," a cheerful, loopy 1950's mummy housewife counts down the top 10 Halloween safety tips from scary movies. In "The Haunted Castle," a young man takes a back road on his way to a Halloween party and ends up at Dr. Boris's castle, where he transforms into Elvis. In the soap opera, "Harvest of Love," will a goodhearted farmhand win the heart of Pa's daughter, and will the Girl Pig on Pa's farm win the heart of Boy Pig? Stay tuned! This hilariously spooky show allows for the creation of two listening rooms where audience members can listen to a live stream of the show. Turkey Day

"How can this day get any worse?"

Jeff Folschinsky 3 M, 3 F, 2 flexible 60 mins, 54 pgs.

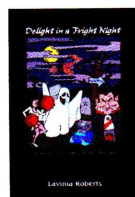

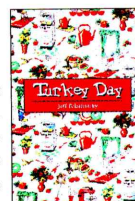

HOLIDAY FARCE. It's Thanksgiving, the birds are singing, and everything is perfect as Bruce and Buffy eagerly await the arrival of their relatives. But when the guests arrive, it doesn't take long before several salacious family secrets are revealed. Bruce discovers that he is adopted and his parents have been divorced for 15 years, his brother-in-law is a backyard gringo bullfighter, his mother has been blackmailing his sister-in-law, his nephew may be his son, and Uncle Charlie and Aunt Gertrude are actually the same person. Then things really heat up when the turkey starts on fire and half the house burns down, Bruce's mother dies in the bathroom and her body disappears, and Buffy's brother-in-law asks Bruce for $150,000 to purchase a lemur ranch. But it's all good until pandemonium breaks out...

"To bite or not to bite, that is the question."

Lavinia Roberts 4 M, 12 F, 5 flex (Doubling: 2 M, 8 F, 2 flex) 45 mins, 41 pgs.

COLLECTION. This collection of easy-to-stage short plays is perfect for Halloween and for audiences of all ages. In "To Bite or Not to Bite," two old-school vampires from Transylvania realize they can't compete with younger, hipper vampires when it comes to luring hapless victims. In "Franken Date," a science geek creates her perfect prom date. In "The Phantom of the Gymnasium," a ghost earns a spot on the cheerleading squad. In "Night of the Living Lunch Ladies," a student suspects the lunch ladies may be zombies. And in "My Cat Ate My Homework," a teenage witch has to deal with a cat that won't stop eating her chemistry homework.

COUNT CATULA

"Who names their cat Count Catula?"

Lavinia Roberts

4 M, 8 F, 8 flexible (Doubling: 3 M, 5 F, 3 flexible) 25 mins, 27 pgs

COMEDY. One dark and stormy night, the Myers receive an unexpected visit from their new neighbor, the Graves family, who live in a creepy house next to the cemetery. The Graves are looking for a cat sitter to watch their beloved feline, Count Catula, while they go on a family vacation to Transylvania. The Myers family agrees to watch Count Catula, but it becomes increasingly evident that Count Catula is no ordinary cat. A delightfully frightful comedy for children that is easy to stage and sure to please the living and undead alike!
