THIS ROSE HAS THORNS

Dwayne Yancey 6 M, 7 F, extras 90-120 mins, 98 pgs

FARCE. Winner, Victorian Drama League Award. Rose and Lily receive letters informing them that their "true" loves, William and Robert, have been arrested, imprisoned in the Tower of London, and are awaiting execution. To rescue their beloveds, Lily and Rose set off disguised as a nobleman and a servant. Along the way, Rose and Lily meet two scoundrels who swindle them out of their riches. Penniless, Lily and Rose hear of a village where residents hate actors so much, they pay for them to go away. All they have to do is find some "actors." Who best to play actors? Why, the scoundrels who swindled them! When the foursome reaches the village, they are dismayed when the mayor insists they perform a rom com so he can win the heart of the wealthy Lady Edwina. The only problem is that the puritanical, book-burning Lady Edwina hates theatre! Script $8.95 Prompt $16 Royalty $75/perf Play Pack $264 (16 scripts, 1 royalty, 50 posters, prompt book)

DETECTIVE DEVAROE AND THE HALDON HOUSE HEIST

Charlotte Nixon 7 M, 4 F, 8 flex 65 mins, 64 pgs

COMEDY. Detective Devaroe is certain a thief has hidden diamonds somewhere in Haldon House and convinces his assistant, Dr. Delaney, that they must attend a masquerade party to search for suspects. First, they have to get past footmen tasked with making sure all attendees are on the guest list, so Devaroe disguises himself as an "elderly gentleman," while Delaney prefers a vampire and pirate costume. Once inside, Devaroe and Delaney encounter practical jokers and a woman who compulsively overeats at parties. When the entertainment fails to show, the butler and maid are forced to serenade guests. There's a scene-stealer for everyone in the cast! Script $8.95 Prompt $16 Royalty $75/perf Play Pack $318 (22 scripts, 1 royalty, 50 posters, prompt book)

*"People at parties love

YOU'RE ALWAYS A STAR AT BIG DOG!

The Western Tale

"Exit, pursued by a bear."

Tracy Krauss 6 M, 7 F, 5 flex, ext (Doubling: 6 M, 5 F, 2 flex) 80 mins, 59 pgs
TRAGI-COMEDY. Inspired by Shakespeare's The Winter's Tale. Set in the Wild West, Big Leo, a wealthy rancher, has "gone madder than a dog" with jealousy. Big Leo thinks his best friend, Doc Xavier, has stolen his wife's heart. Can what starts as a sad, gloomy winter's tale blossom into a happy one? With western flair, this adaptation includes Shakespeare's famous bear scene, and Father Time has been transformed into a traveling snake oil salesman, who functions as the narrator. Audiences will love this Wild West version of the Shakespeare classic complete with mistaken identities, a spring festival, comedic twists, and even a little romance. Script $8.95 Prompt Book $16 Royalty $75/performance Play Pack $309 (21 scripts, 1 royalty, 50 posters, prompt book)

SPARK ADAMS

"We need to find a spark of hope to save America."

Kory Howard 3 M, 4 F, 9 flexible, ext 60-75 mins, 70 pgs.

COMEDY. After a freak accident at a school dance, a C- student is transformed into the electrifying superhero, Spark Adams, who sets out to save the world, the universe, and everything in between! Murdered Again!

*"When I said, 'cook his goose,'
I meant, 'snuff out his candle.'"*

Kory Howard 4 M, 3 F, 4 flexible 75-90 mins, 77 pgs.

FARCE. In this sequel to Murder by Farce, instead of solving Tony's "murder," the suspects must kill Tony in order to get his estate. Arriving at Tony's mansion eager to "cook his goose," the group quickly realizes that no one thought to bring a murder weapon, so they scramble about collecting "weapons" including a couch pillow, a shoe, a candle, a squirt gun, a picture frame, and a pencil. Finally, Tony gives them a knife, which they immediately lose. Mayhem ensues when Tony is "murdered" again. Audiences will love this hilarious madhouse of kooky "murderers." Script $8.95 Prompt $16 Royalty $75/perf
Play Pack $246 (14 scripts, 1 royalty, 50 posters, prompt book)

The Case of the Egyptian Curse

"All around me I feel an atmosphere of evil, subtle and menacing."

Heather Lynn 6 M, 1 F, 1 flex 30 mins, 32 pgs.

MYSTERY. Adapted from the story by Agatha Christie. The famous Egyptologist Sir John Willard has died unexpectedly in Egypt while excavating the tomb of the pharaoh Men-her-Ra. When other members of the expedition mysteriously die in quick succession, rumors spread that an Egyptian curse is to blame for the deaths. Lady Willard, whose son has traveled to Egypt to continue his father's work, fears that he may be the next to die and seeks the help of detective Hercule Poirot. Assuring Lady Willard that he will do all that is humanly possible to protect her son from the mummy's curse, Poirot and Captain Arthur Hastings set sail for Egypt. After battling seasickness, Poirot finally arrives in Egypt, where he compulsively brushes dust and sand from his apparel and discovers that the abominable heat causes his beloved mustache to go limp. Script $6.95 Prompt Book $13 Royalty $60/performance

SPOOF. In this spoof of Edward Albee's Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf, Aaron arrives to pick up his prom date and meets her "parents" for the first time. While Aaron's prom date is getting ready upstairs, Ronald and Nancy engage him in some small talk over a few glasses of Mountain Dew. But as the parents guzzle Mountain Dew, they begin to act crazy and end up in a WWF wrestling match in the middle of the living room floor. And to top it off, Aaron's prom date appears dressed as Wonder Woman. Madcap mania!

THE BEASTS OF WAR

"But are the beasts as wise as the men?"

Heather Lynn 12 flexible 30 mins, 29 pgs.

COMEDY. Adapted from The Jungle Book by Rudyard Kipling. At a military camp, a fearful baggage camel runs about, knocking over tents and waking everyone up. During the stampede, the camel runs into two mules, a troop horse, two oxen, and an elephant. The beasts of war describe their jobs with pride: Camels carry baggage, elephants and oxen drag canons, mules transport heavy guns, and cavalry horses carry their masters into battle. The animals come to realize that though they may be beasts of burden, their biggest burden is war itself. Script $6.95 Prompt Book $13 Royalty $60/performance

SHORT PLAY COLLECTIONS

PLEASE TURN OFF YOUR AUDIENCE

NEW

"Tonight we're seeing Shakespeare in potato sacks and bowler hats."

Werner Trieschmann 8 M, 8 F, 15 flex, extras
(Doubling: 3 M, 4 F, 9 flex, opt. ext) 45-60 mins, 49 pgs

COMEDY. There's plenty of theatre drama and laughs in this side-splitting collection of four short plays. In "Please Turn Off Your Audience," rebellious audience members reject all rules of theater etiquette. In "Saturday Night Stage," two radio broadcasters provide ridiculous play-by-play commentary on a student production of Romeo and Juliet. In "Ushered," two militant ushers harass theatre-goers as they try to gain admittance to a children's play. And in "Boo Me!" an actress begs the audience to stop giving standing ovations during a horrendous student performance. Suitable for middle schools, high schools, and community theatres. Easy to stage with just one simple set for all four plays. Plays may be performed individually, if desired. Script $7.95 Prompt Book $16 Royalty $60/performance

TIED UP!

"I've known many ghosts, and none of them have looked like a sheet."

Steven Stack 3 M, 9 F, 1 flex (Doubling: 2 M, 3 F) 45 mins, 43 pgs.

FARCE. The characters in this short play collection find themselves hopelessly stuck in absurd situations. In "Squatters' Rights," a teenager tries to rid herself of two ghosts who think it's hilarious for real ghosts to wear sheets. In "Bessie Brooks and Tommy Snooks," two nursery rhyme characters update their boring nursery rhyme by going off-script. In "Mumford E. Squirrel in 'How to Ask a Girl Out,'" a boy who has difficulty talking to girls calls upon his guardian squirrel to help him woo a girl. And in "Tied Up," a woman who is about to be run over by a train tries to convince a passerby to untie her. Script $7.95 Prompt Book $16 Royalty $60/performance

IS THIS SEAT TAKEN?

"No one likes those people who talk a lot."

Lavinia Roberts 1 F, 9 flex (Doubling poss.) 30 mins, 46 pgs.

COMEDY. This monologue collection features a myriad of socially awkward characters. There's the new kid who has a tendency to talk too much, a teen who thinks her messy bedroom is an organizational system, and an art student who turns in a blank piece of paper as her self-portrait. Script $6.95 Prompt $13 Royalty $60/performance

Another Golden Cow

"...the new math teacher threatened to prick her index finger and grade with that since we are out of red pens."

Christian Kiley 1 M, 3 F, 6 flexible (Doubling possible.) 30 mins, 45 pgs.

COMEDY. These 10 monologues feature truly memorable characters including a crime scene investigator who poses as a substitute teacher, a small town resident who drinks too many frappuccinos, and a frustrated teacher who desperately needs red pens, grade books, and light bulbs. Script $6.95 Prompt Book $13 Royalty $60/performance

Best Friends...For Now

"Oh, sure, blame the person who did it."

Steven Stack 1M, 12 F (Doubling: 1 M, 3 F) 35 mins, 34 pgs.

FARCE. In "Breaking Up is Hard to Do," two teens decide to break up with their BFF because she died and turned into a zombie. In "Ferns," three girls seek vengeance on a boy who has done them wrong. In "Glass of Water," a girl dumps her best friend because she didn't guard a glass of water properly. And in "The Island," three BFFs are stranded together on a desert island. Script $6.95 Prompt $13 Royalty $60/performance

Casting the Bard

"As if teaching high school drama wasn't torture enough."

Ed Vela 3 M, 3 F, 5 flex (Doubling: 2 M, 1 F, 2 flex) 45 mins, 38 pgs.

COMEDY. A humorous behind-the-scenes look at theater! In "Casting the Bard," drama teachers have to cast the role of Puck in A Midsummer Night's Dream but they only have three students to choose from. In "Just a Few Brief Notes..." the director of a production of Tom Sawyer struggles to direct a surfer cast as Huck and an uptight Tom Sawyer. And in "The Art of Compromise," a playwright battles with an avant-garde director. Script $7.95 Prompt Book $16 Royalty $60/performance

PLAYS FOR YOUNG AUDIENCES

Winnie-the-Pooh and the Wrong Sort of Bees

Heather Lynn 1 M, 1 flexible, 1 boy 20-30 mins, 27 pgs.

CLASSIC. Adapted from the story "Winnie-the-Pooh and Some Bees" by A.A. Milne. In this story within a story, A.A. Milne tells his young son, Christopher Robin, a bedtime story about his stuffed bear, Winnie-the-Pooh. Out of honey, Winnie-the-Pooh hears a buzzing sound coming from a tall oak tree. He assumes there must be bees nearby, and therefore honey, since "the only reason for being a bee...is making honey." Pooh devises a plan to trick the bees into thinking he is small black rain cloud so that he can steal their honey. Pooh rolls around in the mud to make himself look like a dark cloud and borrows Christopher Robin's blue balloon to float to the top of the oak tree, where the hive is located. Meanwhile, at Pooh's request, Christopher Robin marches back and forth under the tree and repeats, "Tut-tut it looks like rain" to help Pooh fool the bees. Perfect for touring.

Whose Play Is It Anyway?

Susan M. Steadman

2 M, 4 F, 3 flexible (Minimum cast: 2 M, 1 F, 2 flexible) 30-45 mins, 33 pgs.

INTERACTIVE COMEDY. Rapunzel, Cinderella, and the wolf from "The Three Little Pigs" keep interrupting a theatre troupe's performance of "Jack and the Beanstalk." Even the Pied Piper conducts a sing-a-long with the audience in the middle of the play. All the performers think they are the most important character, so whose play is it, anyway? In this interactive show, audience members are invited onstage to play the roles of Jack's cow and the Giant's goose. The audience helps the narrator count, awakens Jack from a sound slumber, assists Cinderella in finding her broom, names Jack's cow, and locates Jack's beanstalk. Audiences of all ages will adore this hilarious comedy. Easy to stage and perfect for touring.

Muddled Ever After, A Fairy Tale Menagerie

Daniel A. Kelin, II

4 M, 11 F, 2 flexible (Doubling: 4 M, 8 F, 1 flexible) 60 mins, 50 pgs.

COMEDY WITH SONG. This isn't a fairy tale. It's a fairly ridiculous tale! Hear ye, hear ye! Regular, unremarkable maidens must attend an upcoming royal ball so that the King and Queen can find a bride for their spoiled, immature son, Princeling Reginald. The contenders include a princess with an attitude; a stereotypical princess; Cinderella's narcissistic stepsister; and Cinderella. To ensure the wannabe princesses are worthy of marrying Princeling Reginald—who could care less who he marries as long as he gets a bowling alley—the Queen devises an absurd test. Then to make a fairly ridiculous tale even more ridiculous, there's an egotistical dragon who loves to eat royals, a trio of weird witches, and a prince who wants to be turned into a frog. Amazingly, there are happy endings for most...in a muddled sort of way. Audiences will love this muddled mash-up of "Cinderella," "Rumpelstiltskin," and "The Princess and the Pea." Script $7.95

COMEDY. Adapted from award-winning author Luis Sepúlveda's novel The Story of a Seagull and the Cat Who Taught Her to Fly. After getting lost in the Atlantic and landing in an oil slick, a seagull lands in Boston at the front porch of Zorbo, a tomcat. Before the gull dies, Zorbo reluctantly promises to protect her egg, to feed the chick when it hatches, and to teach the young bird to fly. But Zorbo discovers that hatching an egg isn't as easy as it looks, so he enlists the help of his feline neighborhood friends: Sal, who works at an Italian restaurant; Einstein, a book-loving cat; and the Admiral, a retired seafaring cat who loves to tell tales. When the chick finally hatches, she takes one look at Zorbo and calls him "Mama." Unsure how to raise a seagull chick, Einstein gets a book on how to raise chickens, but Zorbo can't imagine what he was thinking when he agreed to teach the chick to fly. He's a cat! What does he know about flying? And there's another problem...Zorbo has a fear of heights! R. Eugene Jackson 7 M, 12 F, 6 flex (Doubling poss.) 60 mins, 60 pgs.

COMEDY. Inspired by the Hans Christian Andersen tale. Mama Duck is thrilled when her ducklings finally hatch, but when the largest egg hatches, she is puzzled because this duckling doesn't look like the others. Old Duck concludes the odd duckling is a turkey because she is so ugly while Gramma Duck thinks the duckling must be a tree trunk. A cat and hen think she may be an aardvark, a rhinoceros, an alligator, or a kitchen sink. Confused, the duckling leaves home to find out what type of animal she is but must escape from a cat, hunters, and hungry humans who want to eat her for supper. Adorable show! HORROR. In this post-apocalyptic world, all the birds have died, foul-smelling foam bubbles up from water, and more and more people have to conceal their faces with masks, especially the children, as their horrific faces have the "look of the future." It's Halloween and a mother and her two children arrive on the doorstep of an old woman's home. Until now, the old woman has survived by hiding inside her home with the curtains drawn and never touching anything or anyone outside her home. But with it being Halloween, the old woman opens her door to the trick-or-treaters and offers them a few pieces of stale candy and a couple of pennies she has saved in a jar. Once inside, the mother and her children discover the old woman's comfortable, spacious home and can't believe their eyes. In this new world, the government has seized private property, and families are forced to share cramped quarters with strangers in public housing. Spying an opportunity to improve their lives, the family threatens the old woman: either let them live there or they will take off their masks and report her to the government. WHAT IS A PLAY PACK?

Play Packs save you money! They include scripts for cast and crew, a director's prompt book, 50 color 8½" x 11" personalized play posters, and one performance royalty. Make sure to fill in all of the performance information to be included on the play posters. Note: If you will be performing more than one show, please be sure to purchase additional performance royalties.

LICENSE ARTWORK

License your play's full-color artwork! You will receive a JPEG file of the artwork via email and receive unlimited rights for promotional purposes. The artwork is the same as the play's cover and is full-sized so you can size it for your needs. $50

READ FREEVIEWS ONLINE

You may read a portion of each play for FREE at www.BigDogPlays.com. Just click on the Freeview link under the play's synopsis and a copy of the play will appear so you can view sets, props, and character descriptions.

PLAY SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

We welcome play submissions. Please mail a copy of your entire script and include a cover letter, a synopsis, a character breakdown, a list of awards/productions, and a self-addressed stamped envelope for response/script return to our mailing address. Sorry, we don't accept submissions via email.
